February 4, 2019

Dear Caledonia School Community,

After an unexpected week off we are happy to get back to our normal school schedule. To date we have exceeded our six school day exemptions and will be applying for, and hope to receive a waiver for three additional “snow” days from the Michigan Department of Education.

Regardless of this request, we will have to consider making adjustments to the school calendar to be in compliance with the minimum amount of days/hours that our students are required to attend school. Given this situation, I would like to inform our school community that we will have a full day of school on February 22nd instead of the planned Mid-Winter Break. This date has always been listed on our school calendar as a “snow make-up day” in situations such as this.

Given that the winter season is not over yet, and we do not know the outcome of a potential waiver request at this moment, we will wait to make any further adjustments to the school calendar. If and when further adjustments are made, we will communicate this information out as quickly as possible.

Thanks,

Dr. Dedrick Martin
